

CAPREOLUS 1,000 TREES APPLE EAU DE VIE

Just eleven miles from the distillery, it is hard to overstate the rarity and importance of the orchard from which Capreolus sources their apples. Growing over 1,000 varieties of apples, this genetic treasure trove provides them with the raw material for their annual apple field blend eau de vie.

Capreolus is among the few who have had the chance to experience the myriad spectrum that can exist in such a humble fruit. Many of the varietal names are strange and archaic, however they are no novelty. Held within the genes of these beautiful fruit is diversity, security for future breeding, adaptation to changing environments, and a living tapestry that paints the history of the landscape.

A very floral nose of freshly crushed apple, sweetness, hints of peel, spice, and nectarine. The slew of apple varieties brings incredible complexity to the textured palate with rich wood spice, beautiful perfume, juice filled apples, expressive of skin, flesh and core.
